PAX II

"A story of true friendship and devotion"

DEDICATION

This is dedicated to Brooks Good for telling me to make my own second book. And Brooks Good is reading the first Pax book

PROLOGUE PAX

In the first two months I wished my boy was here. And in those two months I just sat around moping for him. Then I saw something that changed my life forever. And at that moment I knew I had a crush, but she got away.

Chapter 1 BOY 16 years old

I longed for Pax and I knew, I just knew that he missed me back and at first I couldn't bear it. I went to my car and just before I went in I stopped myself because of that thought. And that thought bugged me for 2 whole years but finally I went back and said it out loud and my thought was: What if he's happier in the woods? And at that exact moment in time I went down on my knees and realized I will always long for him knowing that he was the only thing I lived for.

Chapter 2

PAX

I ran and ran for the second time hoping that my crush would help me stop thinking about my boy and suddenly she went into a tunnel. Where is she going? And then another tunnel and another tunnel, over and over again. UGGGH, where is she going? And after the next tunnel she got away.

Chapter 3

BOY

And with a whirl in my stomach I decided I should be allowed to to stop thinking about Pax. But I knew for the second time in my life I missed Pax and I went inside and hid for 2 minutes. And then I decided I couldn't mope around. From that moment on, I had a great life and here's how it went.

Chapter 4

PAX

I went back defeated and I wished that I found my crush, but maybe next time. About 6 hours later, she appeared again and this time I was right by her and then suddenly she banked left. At first I didn't see anything but soon I started to see her den and it looked marvellous.

Chapter 5

BOY

I heard an ear piercing scream that sounded like a girl. I ran as fast as I could to the sound but it was just some dumb teenagers playing around in someone else's property. But a pretty girl was beside them and looked nice but wouldn't make eye contact. I thought they were doing it for fun but then I realized they were mocking me. I stormed away but I saw that the girl followed me. At first I tried to ignore her but she kept on following me and I turned around. She looked shy but I realized she wasn't and this is how our conversation went.

Chapter 6

PAX

I tried to take a step toward her. Suddenly in that moment she did an unbelievable thing and made a low growl. And I ran as fast as my legs could carry me. That's how she survived so long, I realized. Alright maybe I'll get a new approach to this problem.

Chapter 7

BOY

At first I just let the silence come and said to her: "Are you with them"? And I pointed at the mocking teenagers. And she turned red and answered by saying: "Kinda." I tilted my head and said: "What does that mean?" And she said back: "We have been friends since kindergarten but they don't always behave the way they did 2 minutes ago". "Well then why did they do it this time?" And she got red again and said: "The bigger one saw you look at me and he got upset." It was my turn to turn red. She suddenly knew why and quickly made me stop feeling uncomfortable by saying: "A lot of people look at me that way" and she immediately winked and I couldn't help but crack a smile. "Friends?", I asked and she immediately said "I'll decide in two weeks and I'll tell you but I don't know where you live." "I'll give you my address." And she said: "Cool."

Chapter 8

PAX

After about 2 weeks I had my plan and the second time she came I was actually ahead of her because I've been practicing the route to her den. And I was in her den first and the moment she came I did my best to mimic the low growl she did and she made a nodding motion. She also motioned me to follow her and now I am actually accepted by her so I can come to her den whenever I want. This will help me stop thinking about my boy, I thought.

Chapter 9 BOY

I thought something was wrong with the girl I met because it's been 4 weeks and she just texted me she needs 4 more weeks. And I just said okay and with a sigh I started to think about Pax again and for the 4th time I got on my knees and started mourning sadly.

Chapter 10 PAX

For the next four weeks my life was good and I started coming to her den more often and she came to my den more often. But I still thought about my boy and I felt a sigh of relief coming when she came to save the tears I was about to shed.

Chapter 11 BOY

I'm not trying to be mean but she took 2 extra weeks but then she rang the doorbell and I felt sweaty with nervousness. But I answered and she took a deep breath and said "I want to be your friend." And we both smiled at each other for 15 seconds. And we met for 2 days in 2 weeks at least. And I tried to hide everything about Pax from her but she eventually found out... "We have to go to him," she said. "Fine" I answered as if I was upset about it but inside my soul I was absolutely thrilled.

Chapter 12

PAX

I tried to hide the fact that I was a friend and pet to my boy from my crush but I quickly realized I couldn't hide anything from her. So the day after I realized that this is what I said (in her language). "I used to be a friend and pet of a boy who was 9." She tilted her head and answered: "I want to meet him." So then I said: "I know him, he has to come to us." I guess this is happening, I thought.

Chapter 13

BOY

We started at 2:00am and I drove halfway and she drove the other half. At about 4 hours we were halfway and I felt joy, nervousness, and happiness all at the same time. Apparently this is happening.

Chapter 14

PAX

"I can't wait," she told me in her language. "Same" I answered without looking at her. She caught that and asked me: "What's wrong?" "It's just me and my boy who haven't talked in months. Also what if he's forgotten all about me." She came over, patted my back with her paw and said: "He hasn't, I'm sure of it."

Chapter 15

BOY

She drove the other half perfectly and I drove swirvy the whole time I drove the ferrari. I even caught her glaring at me when I nearly threw both of us out of the car. I would also glare, I thought. But you couldn't blame me. I was so nervous I could have had the coaches thinking I was at their football practice and my former gym teacher. 'Take that Spencer,' I thought with triumph. When we got there I felt a buzz of feelings.

Chapter 16

PAX

I heard a car pull up outside the woods and I saw that my crush had her bear growl ready. "It's the boy," I said in her language and she immediately stopped. I said: "Why do you want to meet him so bad" (in her language). "I don't know," she said back. "That's not an answer." And she just shrugged. Then we heard footsteps and I saw my boy and I quickly ran to him but I suddenly stopped the moment I saw the girl. But my crush started growling and the boy said: "She's with me" (in our secret language). And I turned and told my crush. But I immediately ran to my boy and we hugged there for 2 minutes. Me and my crush went with my boy and the girl. And my crush and the girl eventually got along with each other.

EPILOGUE BOY

It was a beautiful day indeed, pacing, hoping, and last but not least seeing Pax's red fox babies. And I could tell both Pax's wife and Maria agreed with me and they get along so well. It's been 10 years and my life has been amazing! Me and Pax are unstoppable and inseparable! And my life to come will be incredible! But obviously Pax and Pax's wife will die together. And when me and Maria die we will all be reunited together! And when my other friends die I will introduce them to Pax, and Pax's wife. And I will have the best afterlife in the universe's history!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
