ADONIS ERICKSON

Prologue

I tried to fight off the Terracotta warriors with half my Chi but it didn't work. Why not all of it you might say, well if I use all of it at one time, I become unconscious for 6 hours. Suddenly, more Terracotta warriors came and it was too much and in an instant I realized I had to use all my Chi to defeat them all. So that's exactly what I did. CRACK! And in an instant I fell to the ground unconscious in the woods.

Flashback

Thomas P.O.V

I get what you're thinking, who am I? My name is Thomas Bush. Well, I was given birth like a normal child but when I was 12 both of my parents died in a car crash. When on the streets, I came across a surge of power called Chi. And it was in the sewer. Now I know what you're saying. How did I get in the sewer? Well, I always want an adventure so, long story short, I went in the sewer. And of course I took the Chi and now I save everyone in Boston without them having a single clue of anything.

Archnemesis

Thomas P.O.V

When I woke up I was being dragged along the ground like a piece of cotton. And the things that were dragging me were the Terracotta warriors! I thought I killed all of them. And when we got there I realized where we were. We were in my arch enemy's base. Impossible, I thought. Throw him in the dungeon, he hissed as his cold voice rang out in triumph.

Chapter 3

Swap

About 1 week in I got dragged in the most idiotic thing I've ever seen. But the moment I saw my arch nemesis things got interesting. Put him in the strap, he hissed. And he got out the weirdest gadget and used it on me. And he was in my body and I was in his. Then suddenly he smiled his menacing smile, PERFECT he screamed, it works. Then, he looked at me and hissed: Throw him in the dungeon again.

Chapter 4

Escape plan

Thomas P.O.V

I've been in the dungeon for three weeks now and I had my escape plan on the 4th day of the second week. So I set it into action but it was going to be hard considering the fact that the guards were Terracotta warriors and the fact that I was in my enemies body. But I had a little bit of strength so when the Terracotta warrior came by to give me food I used a lot of my strength to hit his head against the cage bar. I snatched the key and ran out but before I left I watched how the Terracotta warriors were being powered by melted lava. I tried to escape and I surprisingly didn't mess up trying to escape. Or so I thought. Suddenly I heard rustling in the treetops and next thing I know I'm unconscious.

Chapter 5

Escape... again

Arch Nemesis P.O.V

When I got outside I thought that nobody was chasing me but when I turned around there were about 30 Terracotta warriors gaining on me. I technically lost my Chi so I came up with another plan and I set it in motion. First, I climbed up a tree without anybody noticing and every time they passed me by a lot I would follow in the shadows. All the way to my past sensei who had a weird name and that name is: Grand master Rameesh (Rameesh is a common Indian name).

Chapter 6

Meeting

Arch Nemesis and grandmaster P.O.V

I knocked as fast as I could because I didn't want the Terracotta warriors to come. And on the second knock he answered. What do you want, I heard his raggedy voice say. It's me I answered and he immediately pulled me in his home. Why are you here, he said in his normal voice. I need you to help me remaster my Chi and help me master my ninja. But I already taught you, why are you here? Well I used all my Chi because I was being ambushed by Terracotta warriors. Hmmmmmm, he said. Then he finally said: Fine I will teach you how to remaster your Chi and help you master being a ninja. And then he came over to me and said: Well, why are you standing there... Lets train. I turned my back and smiled my menacing smile because well it worked.

Chapter 7

Lesson

Both P.O.V

At first I sucked by falling, Chi bursting myself, and much, much, more. And when I did get a Chi burst (a chi burst is a massive amount of chi at one time) I hit grandmaster Rameesh on purpose. You're not my student so stop acting like you are. Fine, the true impostor said. How are you in my master student's body? Lets just say I had a swap ray around. I lunged at the true imposter and hit him unconscious. I have to find my student. And I know exactly where to look.

Chapter 8

True escape

Mostly the grandmaster's perspective

I ran to the true impostors base of operation and there were hundreds of Terracotta warriors... but even though I was 70 years old, I still had some ninja skills. And I eventually got to my student's cage and he was in the true imposter's body and I got him free and asked in a concerned voice: What happened to you? Well, he started but suddenly Terracotta warriors came and I said: We can talk outside and where is the swap ray? Why do you need the swap ray, he asked. To turn us both into Terracotta warriors and to keep in case of an emergency. And we grabbed the swap ray and turned ourselves into Terracotta warriors and we left immediately after. But not before trying out the Terracotta warrior suits.

P.S. From this part of the story to the end they will be Terracotta warriors and they will talk the same, have the same brain, and still be them. So it's like an upgrade.

Chapter 9

Real lessons

Thomas P.O.V

We went back to his den thing and he taught me lessons on three things and those three things were: How to master my chi, how to master being a ninja and how to master being a terracotta warrior. And even he was new to the last one. At first he taught me how to remaster my Chi then about 9 weeks later, when I mastered my Chi he taught me how to master being a terracotta warrior and this took 8 weeks but only because he also had to master being a terracotta warrior. And last but not least he taught me how to be a ninja.

Chapter 10

Realization

Thomas P.O.V

I sprinted to my enemy lair but when I got inside it was deserted and absolutely nobody was there. There were no terracotta warriors, no lava to power the terracotta warriors, and no supplies. About 2 minutes later I realized that 23 weeks without me is plenty of time to get everything where they want it. But there was one thing I didn't get. How did they get the lava? I sat there puzzled but then I gave up.

Chapter 11

Discovery

Thomas P.O.V

I searched for my enemy base for 1 day and finally I stumbled into it. No, you don't understand I literally stumbled into it. And the moment I stopped myself I used my new and very improved ninja skills. And what I saw shocked me. There were about 150 terracotta warriors on guard then I saw him. He was petting his dog while screaming commands left, right, and center. I ambushed him and tied him to a chair.

Chapter 12

Conversation

Thomas P.O.V

Surrender, I said in my calmest voice. Never, he hissed back. Fine I said back. Then you will go to prison forever I said back. My terracotta warriors will mope the floor with you he said then laughed his menacing laugh. Have it your way I said but you will never escape my prison. And with that I went but the moment I opened the door I heard swords clanking. Ha, he said at me. And then I went.

Chapter 13

Another conversation

Grandmaster and Thomas P.O.V

The moment I closed the door I looked down to see Grand Master Rameesh smashing the terracotta warriors left, right, and center. Why are you here I screamed over all the noise. To help you he shouted back. What are you doing, he said like it was the most obvious thing in the world, come down here and help me out. So that's exactly what I did.

Chapter 14

The final battle

Thomas P.O.V

We were smashing them left, right, and center. But with the factory part of the base there was an infinite amount of terracotta warriors. I'm gonna go to the factory and shut that thing down. Do you think you can keep this up? Yeah, he answered. So I ran to the extractor and when I looked back I noticed that Grandmaster Rameesh was not doing well at all. So I did the most dangerous thing in my life. I jumped off the extractor and at that exact moment in time I felt like I was in the air for an eternity. And in midair I used one hand to hit the extractor and the other hand to hit the terracotta warriors. But I used all of my Chi and went unconscious and the rest was blank.

EPILOGUE

Healing

Thomas P.O.V

But then I felt a surge power in my Chi, ninja and terracotta warrior. And when I woke up I realized that Grandmaster Rameesh was giving me his power. Two seconds later he collapsed dead on the hard, cold, floor. My mind raced as I tried to figure out how to bring him back but I just gave and screamed: Noooooooooooooooooooooo! I screamed while crying. And from that moment on I will never forget those days. And I especially will never forget those moments. But it just hardened me to the bone.

PEACE OUT
